PIP AND POSY

Particularly good for nursery children, Pip and Posy (written by Axel Scheffler) is a story of two friends who overcome issues together - such as potty training! - in a child-friendly way.

KIPPER

Mick Inkpen's classic character is a fun, enjoyable story for children to read! With other adventures to follow after, it's a perfect starter series for kids.

THE BOOK WITH NO PICTURES

B J Novak has written an excellent book to inspire children to move on to books with less pictures, but it is still exciting and interesting for children to read!

PUMPKIN SOUP

Helen Cooper has written a funny, rhythmical story about friendship, sharing and how to take turns.

THE CAVE

Rob Hodgson has written a clever picture book with a big surprise at the end! Can a wolf get the creature out of the cave?

CAVE BABY

Julia Donaldson is well known for her classic stories, and Cave Baby is no different. With lovely illustrations by Emily Gravett this is a must read.
